

ANNUAL BANQUET AT WESTERLY

Of Young Men's Republican Club—John J. Dunn Elected President—William Segor Buys Babcock Property—Congressman Higgins and Angus Park in Conference with Party Leaders.

The fourth annual banquet of the Young Men's Republican Club of Westerly was held Thursday night in the Dixon house and was a big success.
There were 118 seated at the tables and the speeches inspired those present to get out and bustle and make the Republican majority in West-erly so large that it will make good the small majorities in towns where the Republican majority is not so large and aid materially in the general result.

Before the dinner there was a business session of the club, the officers reporting showing the organization in a good working condition. The election of officers resulted in the choice of the following: John J. Dunn, president; Alexander Ferguson, Arthur L.
Perry, vice presidents; Lewis Stanton, secretary; Robert G. Thackeray, treasurer; Edward J. Burdick, Louis J.
Reuter and George Harper, executive committee. George B. Utter, president of the club since organization, declined re-election.

After the business session, which was held in the main parlor of the hotel, the club members proceeded to the dining hall and, after prayer by Rev. Clayton A. Burdick, all partook of a feast prepared and served ac-ceptably under the direction of Landlord Louis W. Eddy. The music was by the Eddy orchestra.

Ex-Governor George H. Utter of Westerly, former congressman from the Second Rhode Island district, was one of the speakers at the banquet.
He spoke of the organization of the club in Providence, whether it is in an individual or whether it is in a body, and when any body of citizens, or individual, citizens could not keep the voice of the people from the ears of the public, then I am against that body, and I am against that individual.

"Mr. Utter throughout his speech," said the Providence Journal, "was frequently interrupted with applause." Even before he spoke a word, after being introduced, the audience rose and for several minutes cheered and applauded him. His speech was a demonstration such as is seldom seen in Rhode Island.

John Dunn, the newly elected president of the club, opened the post-prandial feature with brief remarks, praising Judge John W. Sweeney as congressman. The judge referred to party principles to which the home people of West-erly were so loyal. He then introduced Rev. Clayton A. Burdick of West-erly, who discussed the rights of ministers to be interested in politics and claimed they had the right to be like men and treated like men, not wholly as ministers. He told of his early days when as a law student he did stumpy work for the republican party and has ever since been ardent in the support of the party.

Young Blood Needed.
He said that if there was ever a time when young blood was needed in the party it was now, and he was glad to see so many young men in the political work in West-erly. He said he was a republican because of the record of the party and that the democratic party represented nothing that was for the country's good. He spoke in praise of the former governor in not exercising the veto power as he could find nothing wrong in the work of the legislature.

The next speaker was William C.
Bliss of East Providence. He spoke at considerable length in support of the action of the governor in regard to the veto power and of the democratic criticism. He paid tribute to Westerly's representatives in the state government and referred eloquently to ex-Governor Utter, the nominee for congress from the Second district.
When Mr. Utter's name was mentioned there was an applause of long duration.
Mr. Bliss said it was a difficult year for the republican party and it required united effort to keep Rhode Island where it belonged in the republican ranks. Politics mean nothing besides talk for practical politics mean getting out of the full party vote.
He reminded the West-erly republicans that every vote of the town was needed to aid in victory throughout the state.

Westerly's first citizen introduced.
Judge Sweeney then introduced as Westerly's first citizen, ex-Governor Utter. He was given the heartiest kind of a reception, the cheering ending with the singing of "The John Good Yellow." The governor reminded his hearers that the honor of the town was at stake on election day and not the honor of the individual. He stated as facts that the honor of the nomination was thrust upon him and that he had given after the first ballot, and as the town's honor was at stake he asked the united support of the people of West-erly. "Here it is as you gave it me and as while you are here," Assemblyman Cutler Praises Republican Party.

Henry S. Cutler of Providence, a member of the general assembly, was the next speaker. At the opening he said that Mr. Utter was born great and that he would thrust greatness upon all. He spoke in a general way in favorable comment on the remarks of the previous speakers and in praise of the republican party, the bulwark of the United States, which has made this the leading country. He said that he was a republican by birth and not by inheritance and a firm believer in the republican faith. He then went into interesting details of the virtues of protective tariff. The principle of protection, he said, cannot be converted into any dogma and progress continue. Tariff has nothing to do with high prices.

He closed by posing a glowing tribute to Governor Utter and by urging every republican of West-erly to do their best to get out a full vote and give the governor so large a majority that his election from the Second district would be assured beyond all doubt.

It was midnight when the toastmaster declared the session closed.

Congressman Edwin W. Higgins, candidate for re-election from the Third congressional district, and Angus Park, republican nominee for the state senate, arrived in Pawcatuck about 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon from Stonington. In the morning they visited the Atwood machine and saw the yet mills and talked the political situation over with some of the recognized party.

By appointment they met Representative Albert G. Martin in Pawcatuck under his guidance visited the big plant of C. C. Cutler's son's company, manufacturers of printing presses.
The visitation by the candidates was appreciated by the hundreds of employees, many of whom had never seen Congressman Higgins, who has guarded their interests so well in the national house of representatives. Some of the local house of representatives.
Park, the senatorial candidate, Representative Martin is of course well known to nearly all the employes.
After the visitation Congressman Higgins and Mr. Park held a reception in the combined offices of William A. Wilcox, Deputy Sheriff, William Casey and Mr. Martin and many of the in the Pawcatuck district met the others. During the early evening there was a conference with the party volunteers, and as a result of the visit it is predicted there will be a material increase of the republican vote in Paw-catuck Nov. 8. The trip in this section of the Twentieth senatorial district was made in Mr. Park's large touring car.

There are 2,614 home voters qualified to vote in November election this year that there were a year ago, but in West-erly there is a falling off of 115. The number of voters last year was 1,553, this year 1,438.

The prize winners at the whist given by the Ladies' society of the Church of the Immaculate Conception were:
Miss Bessie Fenelon and Joseph T.
Murray, first prizes; Miss Elizabeth Dunn and Maurice W. Flynn, second prizes.

The football game between the Westerly High school and the Pawcatuck team, scheduled for Thursday evening and Friday to give the teachers opportunity to attend the annual meeting of the Rhode Island Institute of Instruction.

The sessions of the West-erly public schools were suspended for Thursday and Friday to give the teachers op-
tion.

The First Baptist Church society, by a vote of 18 to 12, declined to accept the resignation of Rev. George W. Rigler, D. D. This vote was an expression of the feeling of the church, but it is probable Mr. Rigler will insist, as he has accepted the pastorate of the Lonsdale church.

Frank W. Coy has sold to Mary E.
Burrall of Waterbury the Intermore cottage at Watch Hill, owned by Judge Knapp. The house is a two-story cottage from the Watch Hill farm to J. E.
Hewitt of New Haven, C. C.
McClendon of Philadelphia has purchased two acres of the Browning farm in the rear of the Park Painter cottage at Watch Hill.

WILLIMANTIC
FAST WRESTLING MATCH.

Sam Anderson Defeats Sandy McCloud Before Large Crowd at Windham Athletic Club.

The best wrestling match that has ever been held in this city constituted the main event of one of the finest events put on in the rooms of the Windham Athletic club Thursday evening before a large and keenly interested crowd, comprising some of the city's most representative citizens. The first preliminary was a wrestling match between Young, a barber and Butcher Boy No. 1, both of this city. The first trial was a corker and went to Young Barber in 17 minutes on a body scissors and armlock. The second trial was also won by Barber in three minutes on a double armlock. The victor's science was too much for his game opponent. Frank McCloud was referee and Clyde Martin kept time.

The second preliminary was another close, being a three-round sparing exhibition between Young, Richard and Butcher Boy No. 2, both of this city. This was very fast and pleased the immense crowd. Butcher Boy had slightly the best of it. Mc-Cloud was referee.

The main event of the evening was a fine wrestling match between Sandy McCloud and Sam Anderson, the champion middleweight and, Sandy McCloud, the Scotch middleweight champion. From the call of time there was plenty of action and the entire match was exceedingly fast and fiercely contested. The stakes were $100.00. The Scotchman, some fifteen pounds heavier and equally endowed with giant-like strength, forced the going from the outset. Anderson could not seem to get any of his favorite holds and once came near succumbing to the dreaded toe hold. The wily Scot showed many new tactics and was exceptionally quick and active. The first fall went to McCloud in 50 minutes 30 seconds on a head scissor and arm-lock hold. As the wrestlers faced each other for the second trial Anderson appeared the more aggressive and hegan to wear down his husky opponent and kept worrying him until he at last had him at his mercy with his famous toe hold, winning the fall in 19 minutes. There was great applause.

The third trial was the fastest ever seen on a local mat and kept the excited audience keyed up to a tension-like pitch. Anderson came back stronger and still stronger, and the Scotchman, too confident in the early stages of the match, continued to wear down and had relinquished the coveted palm of victory to his more versatile opponent after 12 minutes of the most strenuous kind of work on a front body scissors and finger hold. Frank Mc-Cloud was referee and L. N. Dondero was timekeeper.

It was announced that Young Hackenschmidt and Young Gotch are matched for next Thursday evening.
The announcement was also made that Anderson and Jim Barnes will be matched for some open date. Anderson agreed to throw Barnes twice within the course of an hour. Another match will be arranged between Anderson and McCloud before the close of the season. McCloud is not thoroughly acclimated as yet, as he has only been in this country a short time.
